

How Much Do We Love our Angels? Let Us Count the Ways

In the business of senior care, caregivers can make or break an agency. Lucky for us, our Angels are truly some of the best in the business. In honor of a month filled with Cupid and chocolate hearts, we simply cannot help but to brag on how much we love our Angels. So, how much do we love our Angels? Let us count the ways.

Our Angels See Caregiving as a Calling

Caregivers like our own Gabrielle Lidji understand that caring for seniors isn't just a job. Instead, it is a calling full of responsibilities that should be honored.

Our Angels See the Story

Our clients are so much more than just a name on a piece of paper or an address. We hire caregivers that search for ways to connect with our clients by finding the client's story. Angels, like our very own Kellie, are like treasure hunters, searching to uncover the history behind the lives of each client. These stories help us to understand them better, provide better care, and foster a relationship of trust.

Our Angels Know It Takes a Team

It takes a village to care for our clients, and our caregivers want to work alongside of other dedicated care providers. For Dionna, our Staffing and Office Manager, finding the right team members starts with the interview. She takes extra care in making sure that caregivers are compassionate, responsible, trustworthy, and team players. We wouldn't have it any other way.

Our Angels Strive to be the Best

Wayzata's team of caregivers strive to be the best in the industry, not because it wins our agency awards, but because our clients deserve the best.

Our Angels Focus on Safety

Clients, and their family members, expect us to keep them safe. Our caregivers do not take this responsibility lightly, assuring that we give assistance to keep homes and clients healthy and secure.

Our Angels Fill the Gap

Family members are the best part of our client's day or week. However, we know that loved ones are busy and sometimes scattered across the country. Our caregivers recognize that struggle and aim to be a friendly face that our client family members can count on when they are not nearby.

Our Angels Encourage and Support Socialization

With many seniors feeling lonely and isolated, our caregivers know the importance of healthy socialization. We take pride in offering a listening ear and friendly face at home, as well as a trusty Rummy partner or book club participant with our clients.

Our Angels are a Calming Presence

Clients with dementia or other memory issues can sometimes have anxiety with their confusion. Our caregivers are ready to be a calming and loving presence in the midst of their uncertainty.

We love our caregivers. They not only provide a service to clients, they work as a team, provide emotional support to clients, and become a member of the extended family. Thank you, Wayzata Angels, for being the best in the business. You are valued!
